

Future Perfect vs Future Continuous

1. Look at these two sentences, what do you think the difference is between each verb tense? What are they used for?

- A. By the year 2050 people will only be using electric vehicles.
- B. In ten years, I will have finished my university degree.

2. What do you think you will be doing in four years from now?

3. Look at the examples and choose a rule for the future continuous

- By the year 2050 people will only be using electric vehicles.
- People won't be using fossil fuel.
- What will you be doing in the year 2030?

We use the future continuous to:

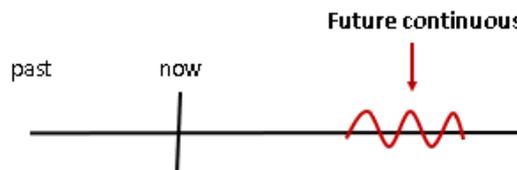

- A. Predict/talk about something that could/will be in process around a specific time in the future.
- B. Talk about a finished event around a specific time in the future.
- C. To talk about something that is in process now.

4. How do we form the future continuous?

It's really easy _____ + _____ + -ing

5. Find someone at home and ask them the following questions:

- A. What do you think you will be doing in August 2022?
- B. What do you think people will be doing more frequently in 20 years?
- C. What do you think people won't be doing in 20 years?

6. What do you think you will have achieved by the year 2050?

7. Look at the examples and choose a rule for the future perfect

- By the year 2050 people will have used up all the fossil fuels.
- People won't have recycled enough to save the planet.
- Do you think Tesla will have invented flying cars by the year 2075?

We use the future perfect to:

- A. To predict/talk about an event which will be in process in the future.
- B. To predict/talk about something which will probably have happened/finished by a certain time in the future.
- C. To talk about something that is in process now and will still be in process in the future.

8. How do we form the future perfect?

It's really easy _____ + _____

9. Ask someone the following questions:

- A. What do you think Google will have invented by the year 2050?
- B. Do you think education will have changed by the year 2050? Why?
- C. What do you think won't have changed by the year 2050? Why?

10. Read the text and complete the gaps using the future perfect or the future continuous.

Have you ever thought about what the world will be like in 2050? Do you think Tesla (1) _____ (invent) a flying car? Maybe people (2) _____ (live) on mars, as space travel (3) _____ (become) much more accessible. Technology is advancing at such a pace, artificial intelligence might even have taken over the world by the year 2050. Can you imagine, people (4) _____ (not communicate) by WhatsApp, but by Cyber link, which is a small chip that can be implanted into your brain, and people will be able to chat just by thinking! It sounds ridiculous, but big companies (5) _____ (invest) enough time in developing artificial intelligence by then.

I'm not sure if I want to be around so much technology. Personally, by the year 2050, I (6) _____ (not use) AI; I think I (7) _____ (sunbathe) on a desert island somewhere!
